My experience in the program

First, I would like to thank Judge Kalauli and his staff for all their help during my 7 months in this program. I will admit that I was apprehensive of this program initially, but it did not take long to realize that they honestly had helping Veterans in mind.

To all the Vets currently in this program, I would ask you to embrace it and follow their lead. You will not be disappointed. I wish you all the best.

Congress passed the Act to Create the Coast Guard

President Woodrow Wilson signed the Act to Create the Coast Guard. The act combined the Life-Saving Service and Revenue Cutter Service to form the Coast Guard.

The Coast Guard Act of 1915 was passed by Congress on January 20, 1915, and signed into law by then-American president Woodrow Wilson on the twenty-eighth day of the same month. The act created the United States Coast Guard[1] as a new service outwardly modeled on the structure of the U.S. Navy and under the command of the Department of Treasury. Its men wore uniforms and had the responsibility of protecting American coastal cities and waters from hostile attack, enforcing customs duties and performing search and rescue missions at sea and in coastal environments. The U.S. Coast Guard is a branch of the United States Armed Forces[2] authorized to stop, search and arrest suspected smugglers and other unlawful intruders into American waters.[3]

Mergers: The Coast Guard was created from the merged United States Life-Saving Service and the United States Revenue Cutter Service, which had been established in 1790 to prevent smuggling until the reestablishment of the Navy in 1798.[4]

Although placed under the U.S. Treasury Department the Coast Guard was temporarily transferred to the Navy Department during World War I and again during World War II. In 1939, the Coast Guard also integrated and incorporated the United States Lighthouse Service and, in 1942, the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation. In 1967, the Coast Guard was placed under the United States Department of Transportation.

Further Amendment: Since 2003, the U.S. Coast Guard has fallen under the jurisdiction of the Department of Homeland Security and as before in times of war and emergency when declared by the president it reverts to the navy's control.[5]

Judge K's Corner

"With each graduation that passes, I am awed by our Veterans' ability to not only overcome their obstacles, but to surpass the program's goals. Each Veteran that graduates is a testament to what can be achieved through hard work and dedication."

- Judge K
